

School Classroom Challenge 8 : Create a virtual Green Newsletter (1 Credit)

Sharing your green efforts can be rewarding for students and community members. Your newsletter should include a catalog of green school initiatives happening at the school and in the greater community area as well as any desired green related content. Schools can send their newsletter to students and community members. Contributions can also come from many sources. The frequency of the newsletter is up to you, but make sure to have at least two entries. Click here and here for tips on writing a newsletter. If your school already has an established newsletter, you may dedicate a page or section of the newsletter to recycling related information/initiatives.

To receive credit for this challenge, submit at least two issues of your newsletter including recycling or green related content.
